Windsor's Finest Ron Cooper and Tex Murray

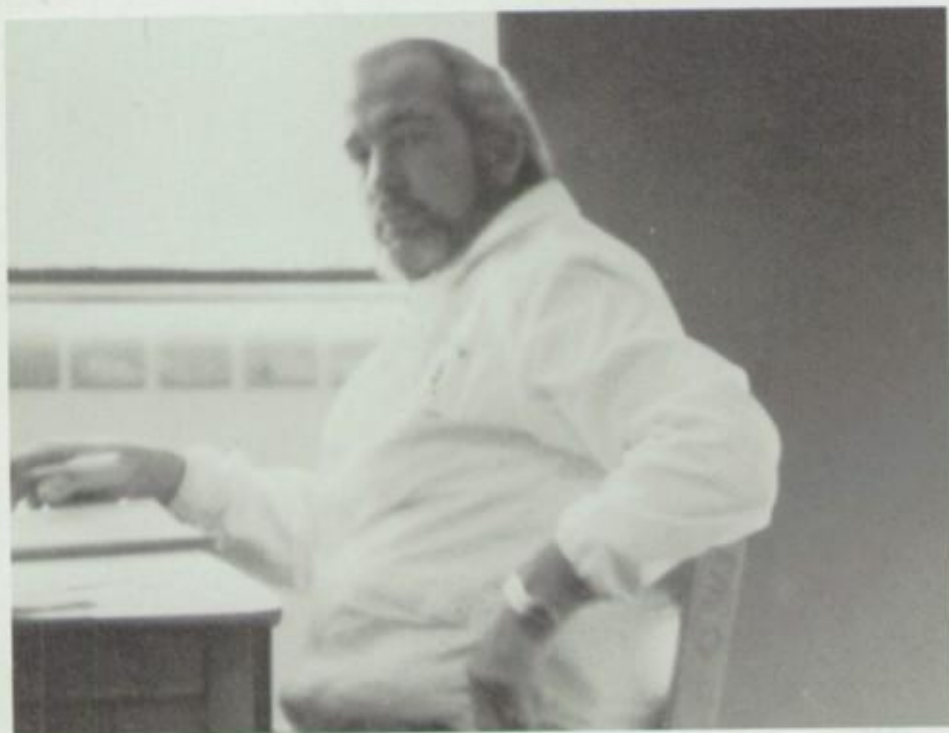

We, the staff of the 1984 Duke, have dedicated this yearbook to Coaches Ron Cooper and Tex Murray. We feel that there are not two more deserving people at Windsor High School. These two men show that hard work and determination are necessary to succeed and they have done more than their share to promote and maintain school spirit here.

Though his title is athletic director, Ron Cooper is better known as head coach of varsity football and boy's track. Coach Cooper is always here in August working with his football players. He knows that success requires a disciplined mind and body. He drives his team hard, yet he is sensitive and caring. He asks no more from others than he asks from himself. It is not easy to face some of the larger teams in our conference, but Coach Cooper remains optimistic that his team can beat the odds. His high standards of moral conduct have earned him the respect of the faculty, his students, and his football players. Coach Cooper lives by the standards he sets for others, and whether on the gridiron, the track, or in the classroom his philosophy rings out, "A quitter never wins and a winner never quits."

They Keep The Spirit at WHS Soaring

The 1984 Duke has also been dedicated to Coach Tex Murray. In the time that Coach Murray has coached our baseball team he has brought two district championships home in the last three years and first place at the end of the regular season five times. He has also coached boy's varsity basketball and brought two district championships to WHS. Coach Murray also teaches physical education. His good nature and sense of humor make even gym class tolerable for some of us. He shows how discipline and hard work can pay off. He pushes his baseball players hard, but that makes them the champions that they are. Coach Murray keeps Windsor soaring with that championship feeling. Thanks, Coach, we don't know what we would do without you!

Is This

I recall sitting upon my mother's lap when I was a child. She told me many things that would happen, but she never told me when. Of the many things she told me, she said I would grow up one day to become my own person.

When I graduate at the end of this year, I will ask myself if this is the end of my childhood.

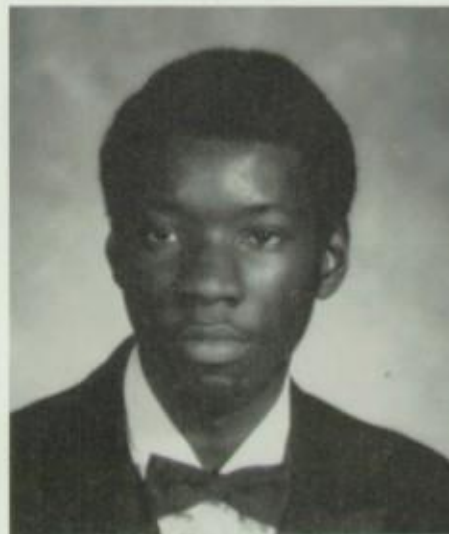

I look over my shoulder about how I have gotten by. I realize that it was because of encouraging words given to me by my mother.

Mom seems to be my tree and I am her branch. Now that I am about to graduate, I must strive for the best to keep that tree upright, because the basic food of that tree is what mother taught me. I can never stray from these teachings because no matter how far I go in life, they will always linger like my mother's everlasting memory. But the question still crosses my mind, "Is this the end?"

We have climbed the rough side of the mountain and finally reached the top. It was not easy climbing this mountain. Some days it clouded up and rained; other days the sun was shining. We took the bad with the good and through it all we tried to keep smiling. As graduation nears, we look over our shoulders and think of all the things we have been through together. We've been through many changes, and those changes have made us grow.

We have watched each other grow up and mature, and finally we will receive our diplomas. Now we must go our separate ways, not knowing what the future might hold. As we leave each other, we leave with a dream of making it to the top.

Child of the universe, you have grown too fast, may you look to tomorrow, savor yet the past.

In all that I have done and all that I have learned, I have searched for a "me" for the others to see. Reaching deep inside of me for things I have never known, but I had God, parents, teachers and friends to help me through.

Upon looking up after five years gone by, I found another page of my life had turned.

The simple happenings of today will be great memories tomorrow, and yet what's too painful to remember we simply choose to forget. And the fact that we cannot do it again might bring us a bit of sorrow.

Yet the simple fact that we have lived life once, will let us think it a success. And the years to come will prove to us that "1984" has been better than all the rest.

On the Wings of Love

Everyone who attended the 1982-83 Junior-Senior Prom agreed that it was a huge success enjoyed by all.

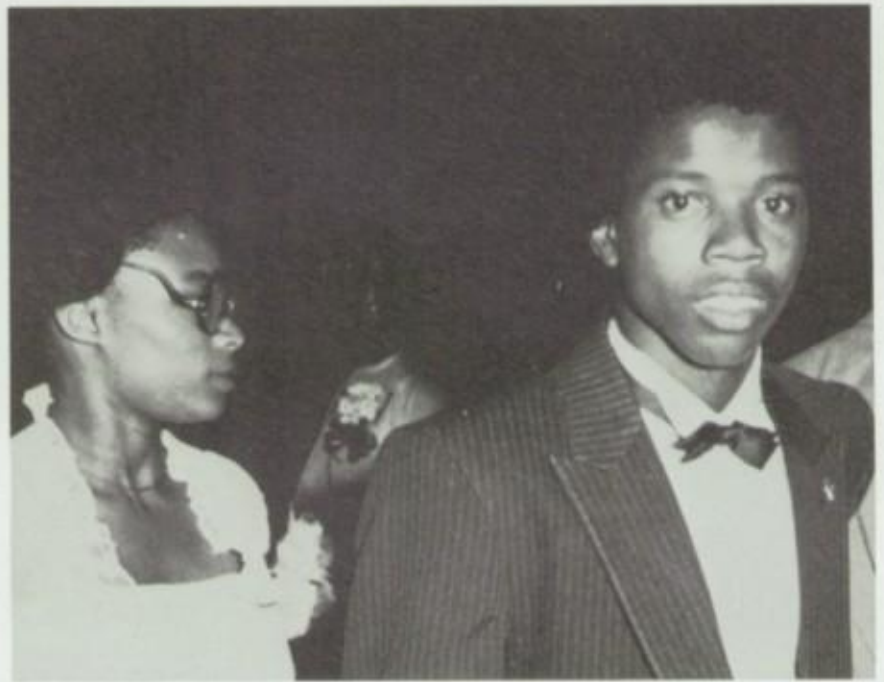

Thanks are extended to Miss Dobie, Miss Barlow, Mrs. West, Mrs. Carmichael and conscientious students for the hard work rendered.

The theme of the Prom was "On the Wings of Love" taken from a popular song of the 1983 year. The band was "Plunky and the Oneness of JuJu."

Tuxedos and formal gowns adorned everyone for the evening.

The night of "On the Wings of Love" will be an everlasting memory to all who attended.

With this ring...

All that extra hand movement from Juniors this year is not a new disease. Only the arrival of class rings can cause so much interest in the fingers of classmates. This interest begins in September when Herff Jones shows up to measure for ring sizes, and the suspense builds until the annual Ring Banquet when the rings are actually distributed. This year's banquet was held on December 12 and the rings that students got had everything from initials and birthstones to Confederate flags in their design! Some students hardly try their rings on before they give them to a member of the opposite sex!

The Heat of the Moment

A sizzling summer turned into steamy September this fall when that old question "Hot enough for you?" took on completely new meaning at W.H.S.

While neighboring school systems continued to dismiss early because of the unseasonable heat, Windsor students and faculty alike wondered how high the mercury would have to rise before they were dismissed.

Students chose many ways to "beat the heat" — from paper fans to the mini-electric models. There were lots of wet paper towels and many trips to the water fountain — DURING class, if possible. During lunch, ice cream sales alone went up 75%. Some students did get to go home, after a trip to the clinic suffering from heat exhaustion.

The scorching weather lasted only a few weeks before normal cooler autumn temperatures returned. At least students at Windsor will not only be prepared for life — some also got a glimpse of life hereafter!

Driver's Education

"Finally, I can drive to school!" "What?! You mean we have to park too?!" Exclamations like these can be heard from most tenth grade students as they prepare for years of driving ahead. Most students can hardly wait until they are old enough to drive and they start classes as soon as possible. Students who participate in the driver education program take a one semester book-based course which teaches the basic rules and regulations of driving and some in-depth studies on types of driving and weather conditions.

The second semester of class is usually spent driving. Before actually sitting behind the wheel, all students are required to secure a learner's permit. Students spend seven hours observing other students driving, and then each gets his own opportunity to experience seven hours "behind-the-wheel." Running through red lights, knocking over cones and discovering the rules of the road are all parts of driver's education training.

After all this you may wonder "Is driver's ed really necessary?" One student comments, "Yes, driver's ed gives you the experience necessary to get your license."

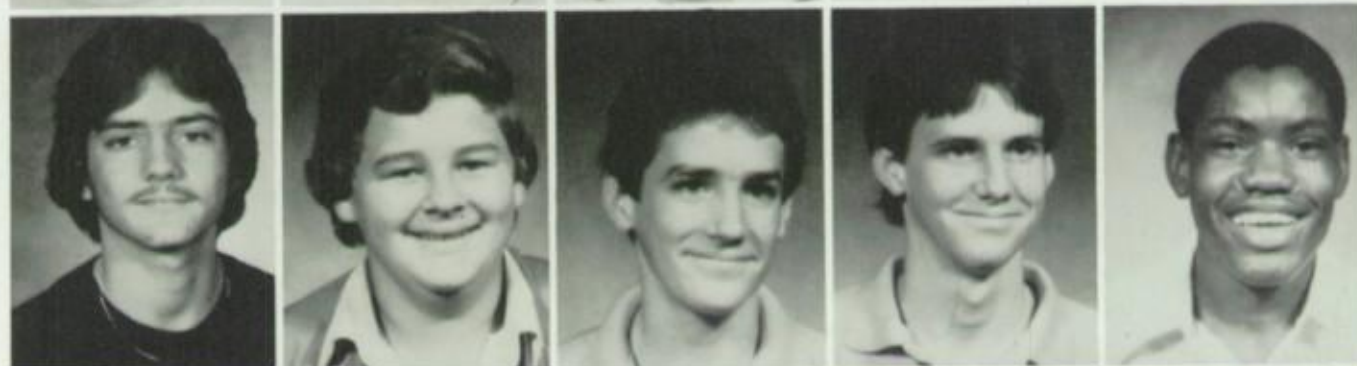

The same student pointed out that she likes driver's ed because she has an experienced teacher like Ms. Neal. Ms. Neal has been teaching driver's ed at W.H.S. for twelve years. With an excellent teacher like Ms. Neal, all tenth graders should be off and zooming.

Competency Test

"O.K., you may now begin. You will have fifty minutes to work on this part of the test. Good luck!" These words caused panic among some sophomores; some seemed to squeeze up into a semi-shock state. The Virginia Competency Test is taken the second semester of the sophomore year.

This test consists of two parts — mathematics and reading. Students are required to perform simple functions such as addition, subtraction, multiplication, division and reading graphs. The reading portion tests students' ability to read for comprehension and to follow directions. After our sophomores take this test they should be better prepared for the future and very relieved!!

Apples: Not Just for Teachers

This year Windsor High School has added a new dimension to some of its math and science classes. We have added two Apple IIe computers and one Commodore 64 computer. Mr. Patterson, our expert on computers, has been teaching many of his classes how to operate and write simple programs on these computers. Computers understand BASIC language and can be simple to operate. They can draw pictures and diagrams, keep records, do mathematical equations, draw charts and do many other things.

Next year the school board may require that students take a class on basic computer operating. We think this will give our students here at W.H.S. an advantage.

Freshmen Rising Up!

The freshmen have definitely risen up this year. We no longer get laughed at and teased about being the tآمores! Now it's our turn to tease! We've really had a successful year too, thanks to our freshman spirit and enthusiasm. How could we forget the great ninth grade homecoming float that won first place in the parade? Junior varsity sports also had plenty of participation by freshmen. Some, like Drexter Randall and Terry Bradshaw even played for the varsity. Still, we look forward to the future. Soon we'll be getting our driver's licenses, decorating for the prom, filling out college applications . . . Meanwhile we've got to get through Mrs. Pierce's English class and Mrs. Alston's World History!

Fads and Fashions were a totally awesome experience at Windsor High this year. Those mondo mini skirts and totally vicious Flash Dance shirts were all part of the daily scenery. Not to mention all of the totally wicked pink and purple bandanas around necks, waists and ankles. Like, even the guys got into the show with those massive camouflage outfits. Wicked Peter Pan boots really like, "massively took over!" And the styles didn't stop with clothes, they like took over hair too. Spiked hair was mega-tubular! Like, I'm sure, everyone still flips over turned up collars and like that totally awesome Valley Girl talk has become like a totally tubular act of communication. Keep up the work! Ferrr Surrre! Gag me out!

Civics?!

Windsor High has added something to the variety of classes the 8th graders have to take. It's Civics and it's something that the upper classmen didn't have to tackle.

Civics has its advantages. One, that we would all like to be burdened with, is that this class does not use textbooks. For the first two weeks of school the 8th graders used the High School Handbook. Now they are using material provided by teachers and The State Department of Education. However, Civics also has disadvantages. For instance, these thetamoses can't look for answers from their older brother, sister or even friends since upperclassmen haven't studied this subject before.

This class is being used to bridge the gap that all of us face: that terrible stage in life between being a child and being an adult. It teaches that for every right there are many responsibilities. It is a certain fact that by the time these new High Schoolers finish the year they will, in one way or another, have a better understanding of what it really means to be an American citizen.

How many of you have always wondered what I.S.S. and Hollywood have in common? Well, believe it or not, I.S.S. has been called this for years.

I.S.S. used to be held on stage and many students commented during their stay that that was the closest they ever got to Hollywood. The title has definitely stuck. There is a change though, I.S.S. is now held in a small room on the East wing, but it is still considered Hollywood.

A simple but definitely warning description about I.S.S., given by John Corbman, was something to think about. "When you first walk into the door you have automatically been sworn to total silence. There will be no talking, coughing, laughing, facemaking or any uncalled for movement while visiting Windsor's scenic and historic place. You must also work the entire time you are there. Even though you are about to fall out due to heat exhaustion, boredom, or plain laziness you must continue to work. So remember, Ms. Jones is continually on the watch so mind those P's and Q's."

"A step up or a step back?" That is one question that I am sure we can all remember asking. Is 8th grade considered a period of dignity because of being a "High Schooler"? Or is it a period of "At the bottom again!"?

Everyone can recall that first year in High School. It was fun but also a pain. Trying to learn a schedule, where all of the classrooms are, and new, stricter rules make it definitely a year of confusion.

It's a known fact that upperclassmen tend to pick on 8th graders. It is considered a privilege to be out of that horrible, scary, but exciting stage called Thetamores. When they enter 8th grade, they all seem so innocent and cute. However, as they grow older and move up the ladder of school the changes are certainly noticeable. Those cute, innocent, shy Thetamores have turned into confident, progressing, young adults.

Just remember 8th graders, your turn to pick on those upcoming Thetamores will be here before you know it. And as for the upperclassmen, the next time you start to aggravate our class of "88" think about that tough first year you had!

Ms. Withers' sixth period English class is certainly a sight for sore eyes! They are definitely a proud part of the "Class of 88"! These students have high goals and are doing their best to achieve them. Ever since the first trip to the high school on April 19, 1983 for orientation, the eighth graders have realized the importance of both good grades and attendance. Ms. Withers is very proud of all her English classes and she has every right to be! Keep up the good work Thetamores!

Fast Times...

... At Windsor High!!

The Lords of Discipline

"Good morning, how are you doing?", are the usual statements you receive from our kind principal, Mr. Worsham.

Mr. Worsham's chief interest in Windsor High is academic achievement among the student body. At the same time he encourages students and staff members to become more involved in both curricular and extra-curricular activities.

Mr. Worsham's appearance throughout Windsor High encourages students to attend classes, and to get to them on time. Mr. Worsham often reminds the students of standards of conduct and consequences for breaking rules, to keep students on the right track.

Mr. Worsham's dedication to leadership keeps our school running smoothly.

Windsor High School gladly accepted our new assistant principal, Mr. William E. Mebane. This is his first year at Windsor High and he has adjusted to the school as if it were home. Mr. Mebane attended Norfolk State University where he received his B.S. degree. He also received a M.S. degree from Hampton Institute. Mr. Mebane now attends Old Dominion University for further studies.

Mr. Mebane is not only a dedicated principal, he uses his spare time to take part in the National Guards. He is First Sergeant for the Virginia Air National Guard.

Before coming to Windsor, Mr. Mebane taught physical education at several schools in Newport News.

Mr. Mebane is happy with Windsor High School and the students here as much as we are pleased with his services for the school.

Spic and Spam

Mr. Liggins is the janitor of the school. He works hard to keep Windsor High looking spotless. He is the man with the plan with a hammer in his hand. His helpers really work hard also. Every evening the workers have one hall to themselves and they really work hard to clean the hall and classrooms. The janitors really soar with the spirit of Windsor High when it comes to cleaning.

How many times have you walked in and out of the lunch line and ever thought of how much school spirit the lunch room workers have?

No, it's not an every day question but there is a lot of school spirit within the walls of the lunch room. For example, did you notice the stuffed animals on "Stuffed Animal Day" of Spirit Week? And the blue and gold sweatshirts on blue and gold day?

No, we don't give them much credit but they do have a lot of Duke spirit!

The cafeteria workers are Mrs. S. Beale, Mrs. Beale, Ms. Pierce, Ms. Rose, Ms. Brown, Mrs. Hines, and Mrs. Bradshaw.

Homecoming

Who will ever forget the beautiful makeup, dresses, and bodies of all those gorgeous "gals"? "Willa Worsham" was queen, but everyone agreed it was a close race with such beauties from which to choose.

This year WHS's homecoming was very exciting for on this day a special event occurred: Windsor High School had a womanless homecoming performed by select faculty and students. These rare beauties were carefully prepared by some of the faculty. This night will be memory for all who attended.

Us Through All Of Our Trials...

Teachers are people, too. Believe it or not, they don't turn into wolves or bears after the 3 o'clock bell rings to go home. Although, sometimes you may think so.

1. Is this what Mr. Patterson looks like after work all of the time?
2. Don't fall Mr. Boggess! It might not look so good all over your face.
3. Tell it to your wife, Mr. Murray!!!

Mrs. Emerson is one of the first smiling faces any visitor to WHS sees. She makes even being sent to the office a little more pleasant. Mrs. Emerson is always bright and cheerful even after being interrupted twenty five times while typing the morning bulletin. Many consider her to be the "Head Honcho" of WHS.

Her sidekick, Ms. Cobb, takes care of Windsor High School's many financial responsibilities. Finances can be very unpleasant — just ask the yearbook staff or the cheerleaders (that's why Ms. Cobb usually doesn't smile as much as Mrs. Emerson!).

The faculty and students really appreciate all the hard work these ladies do for us. They make WHS run a whole lot smoother!

Attendance is now a top priority of the students at Windsor High School since a new policy was set. The policy states that if a student misses thirty periods of any class, the student will not get credit for that class, no matter what his grade may be. Excused and unexcused absences no longer exist.

The majority of students say that the policy appears to be fair. But there are some who think the policy is impossible to relate to. Benita Thompson, a sophomore at Windsor High, replied, "I think the policy is needed and it will be helpful to the students." Seniors of Windsor High use the policy most importantly to maintain passing grades to graduate. Senior Donya Chase replied, "I think the policy is helpful to mostly the seniors because their top priority is graduating and attending college." Attendance in college is very important.

Teachers feel that the policy has become a great help to them also. Because of fewer absences there is little work that needs to be made up by students.

The majority of Windsor High School approves of the policy and it has shown a great improvement in grades of the students.

This year for the first time, Virginia State Board of Health has required all students in Virginia schools to have documentary proof of adequate immunizations. All the records must show date, month and year the shot was given. It also had to be signed by the local Health Department or a private physician.

This record had to be in by the first day of school or the students were not admitted to their classes. As a result of this 145 students gathered in the gym because they lacked the proper documentation.

By the end of the third day of school, students had the correct information in and classes were normal once again.

New Faces On Our Faculty

Joyce Ficare is the new Special Education teacher. Ms. Ficare attended Forest Glen High School in Suffolk. She received her A.S. in Science from Paul D. Camp Community College and her B.S. in Science from Old Dominion University. She then taught at Idlewood School and tutored some of the college students.

Ms. Kannan is a new face at W.H.S.'s staff this year. She graduated from Old Dominion University.

Ms. Kannan is a native of Franklin. She attended Southampton Academy. She is now the new eighth grade Science teacher at Windsor High. Ms. Kannan also is the Science Club sponsor.

Whenever Ms. Kannan is not smiling she's posting her class assignment beside the outside of her door. But she is very happy here at W.H.S.

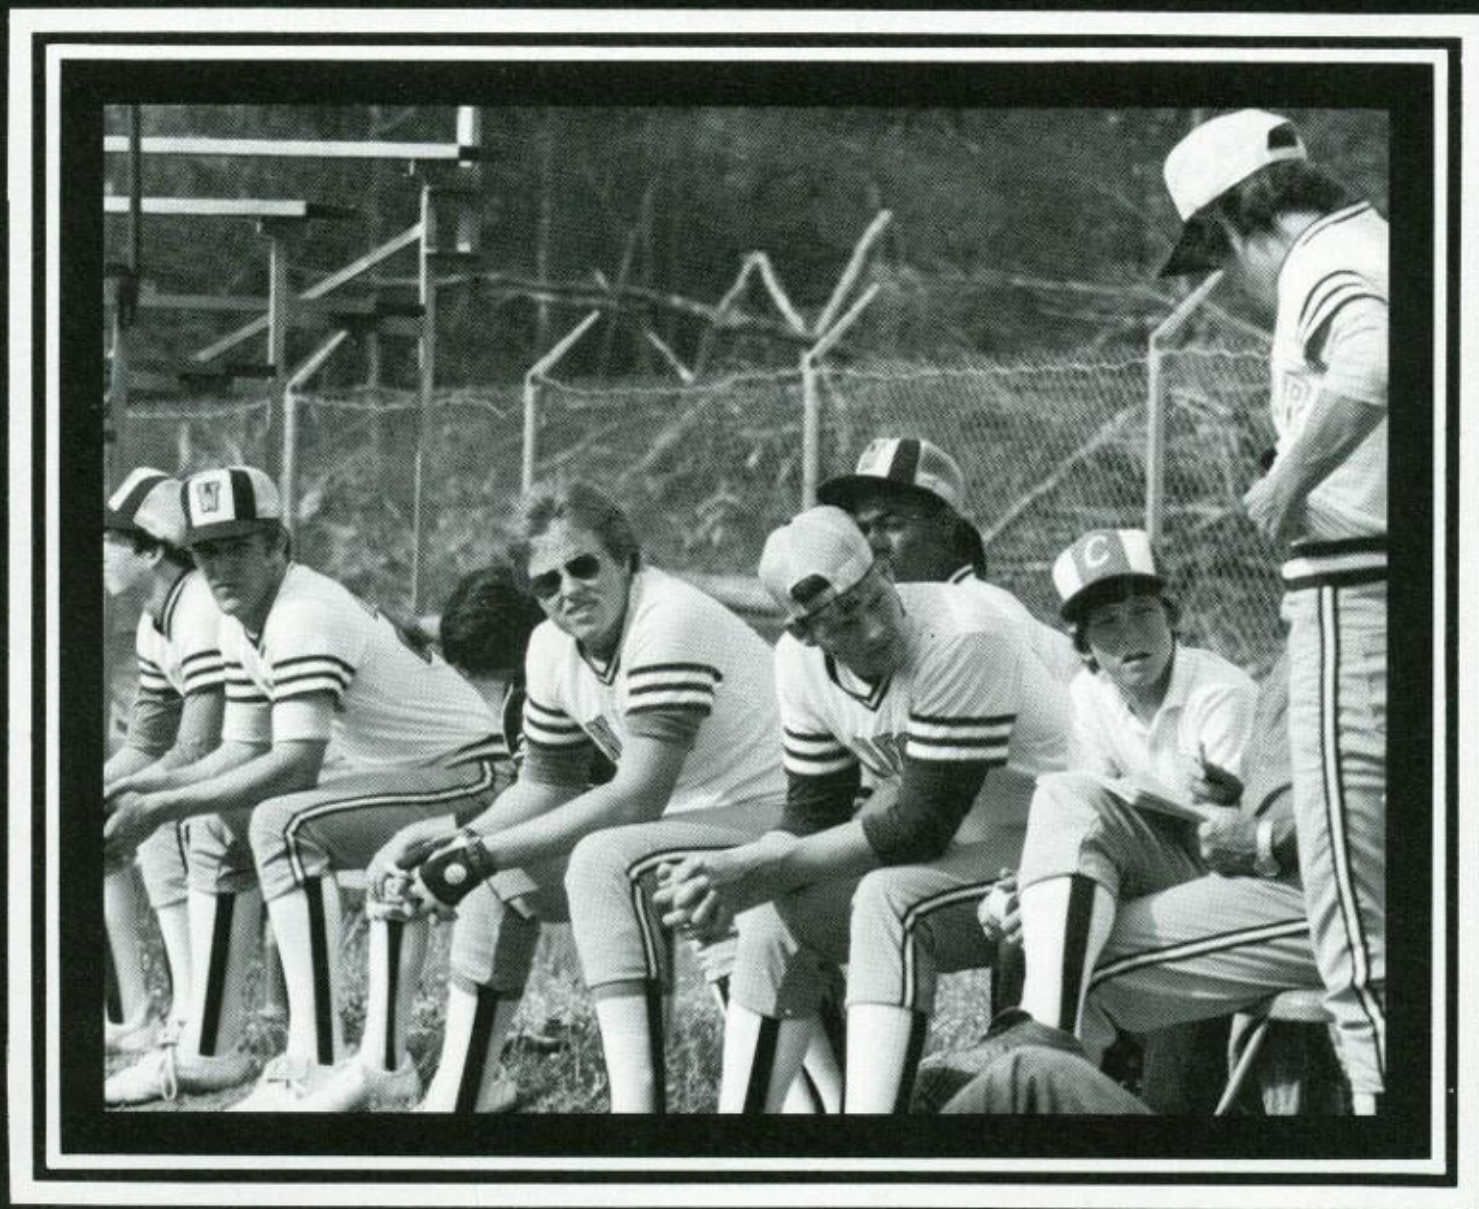

Mrs. Zimmerman has returned to Windsor High once again after being transferred to Smithfield High. After Mrs. Keeling's retirement, Mrs. Zimmerman decided to come back to her first teaching job.

She graduated from Booker T. Washington High School and then from Norfolk State University. In 1980, she received a Masters degree in Reading Education. Mrs. Zimmerman really enjoys teaching the students here at WHS.

Mr. Gary Kirts is a graduate of Dabney S. Lancaster Community College, VPI, and Southern Western University. He received an Associate in Science and a Bachelor of Science. Since he has arrived at W.H.S. the appearance of the shop building has drastically improved. The floor, and machinery have been painted and the ragged tables have been repaired.

Mr. Kirts is a strong supporter of our school. You can always find him cheering from the bleachers at a basketball or football game or keeping an eye on everyone at the dance (when he's not dancing himself!). Mr. Kirts is truly an asset to the school.

Mr. Calvin Boggess, another smiling face added to our staff, is the new government teacher at Windsor High. Mr. Boggess attended V.C.U., where he received his B.S. degree in Science of Urban Studies. He also received his B.S. degree in education of Social Sciences. The seniors at Windsor High have the best opportunity to enjoy him the most, and they seem to do just that. The rest of the student body enjoys his presence at Windsor High also.

If Only Faith Could Move Mountains

The varsity football season began with an optimistic outlook. Even though August practices were long and hot, the satisfaction of winning and playing well made it worthwhile. Penalties and injuries plagued the team during many games, but the players always bounced back. Fan support helped the team win games but wasn't always enough. However, the team never lost faith and neither did the fans. The addition of assistant coach Calvin Boggess and new players added much depth to the team. Freshman wingback Terry Bradshaw scored five times and tailback Bobby Bailey rushed for 461 yards and three TD's. Quarterback Dave Weatherman passed for over 730 yards and six touchdowns. Coach Ron Cooper pushed his team hard and disciplined them well. The team's revenge on archrival Suffolk (20-7) after a drumming from them earlier in the season (32-0) proved his point.

Small But Determined Team Never Gave Up!!

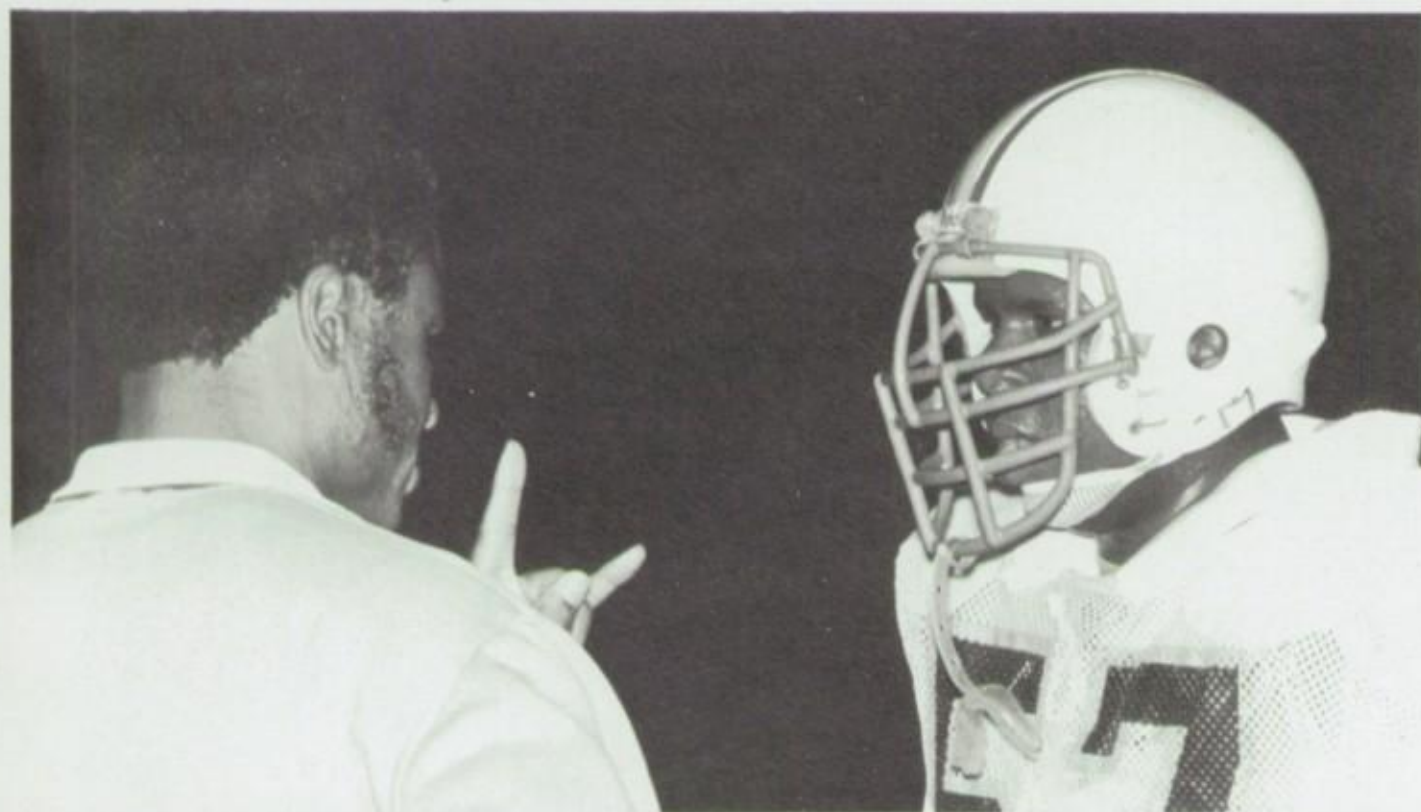

High Hopes Halted

Though our high hopes for the 1983 football team were halted, two of our players raised our spirits again and again. Juniors Val Rapp and Chris Uzzle were selected for the All-District team by area coaches.

Noseguard Val Rapp had 35 unassisted tackles and 3 quarterback sacks.

Chris Uzzle, a defensive end, was co-captain of the team along with senior Dave Weatherman. Chris had 70 unassisted tackles and 4 quarterback sacks. Both Val and Chris will be returning next year and are looking forward to a promising season.

Records Don't Always

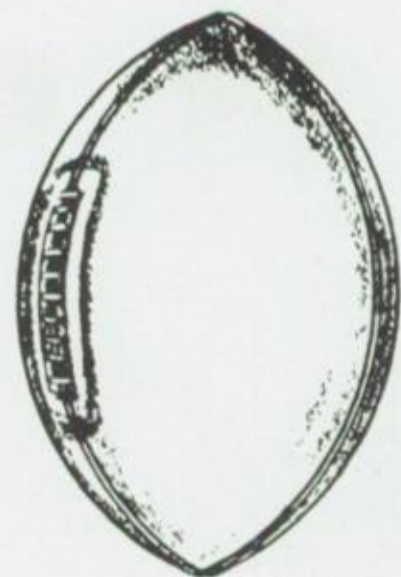

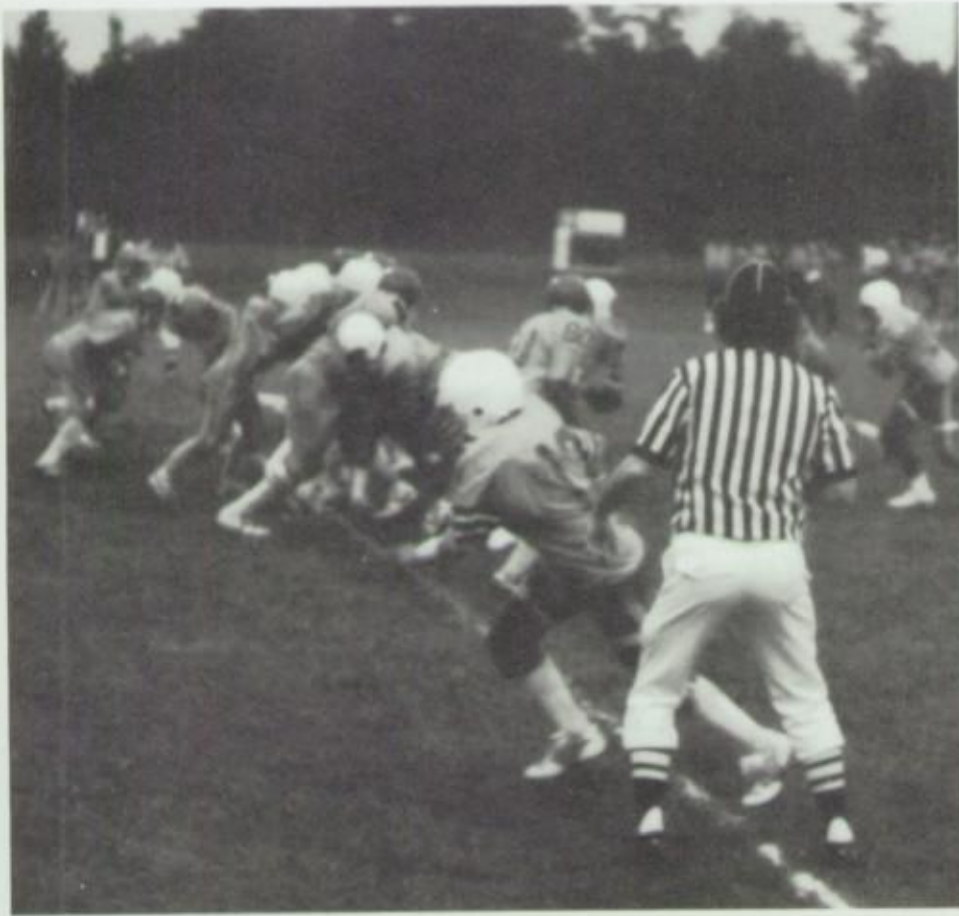

As the junior varsity coaches put away the footballs and jerseys, they have a memory of a rough season. Despite hard work and practice, the junior varsity football team has a record of no wins and seven losses. Even though the team lost a few starting players, because of injuries, they still showed good attitudes toward their coaches. The team consisted mostly of eighth and ninth graders, so many of them will be returning with the experience that they gained from the 1983 junior varsity football season.

Rookies Tackle Inexperience, Loss of Players

Windsor's 1983 graduation took its toll on the Lady Dukes. Having lost their coach, the team and new coach Mr. Kemp, had to start from scratch. The season ended with a disappointing record of 2-14, but the Lady Dukes are looking to the future. The accomplishments of the 1983-84 team therefore have not been in terms "wins" but rather in terms of experience for the young team. Next year's season will see a more mature, disciplined, and experienced team that will have high hopes of matching the quality of outstanding play. But without the leadership of Judy Sawyer, Sherry Uzzle and Beverly Eley the team will suffer a great loss because of three seniors.

Beverly Eley on the rebound! Trying to score again. Debbie Joyner jumps for a block. Tracey Uzzle looks for her goal.

The Cardiac Kids

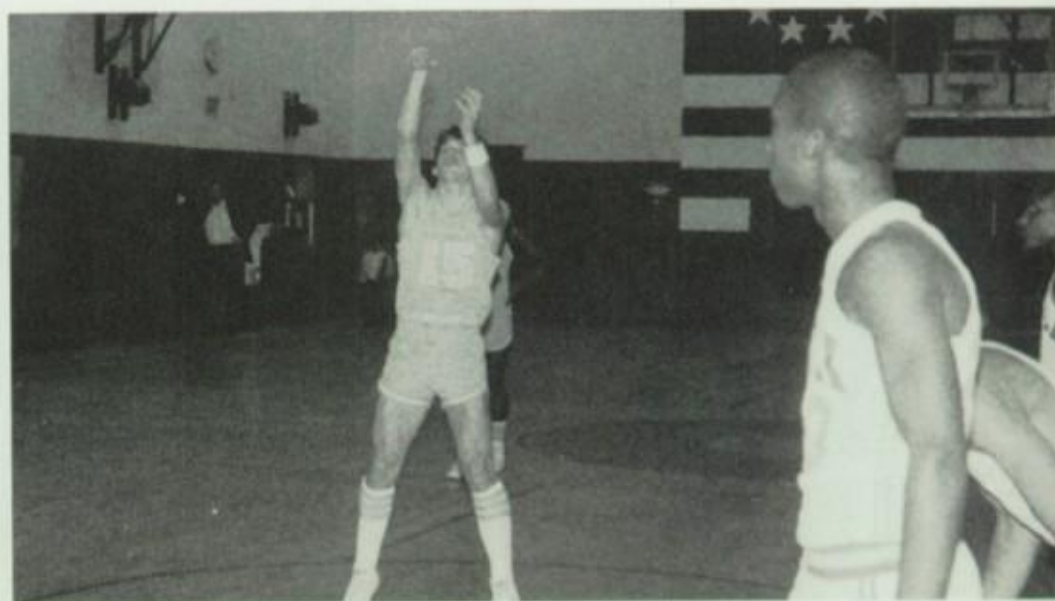

"Practice makes perfect!"

How many times have we heard that statement repeated over and over again: piano teachers say it for effect, English teachers say it is trite, but only head coaches take its meaning to heart. So it was with Varsity Basketball coach John Fuller, he knew what he wanted done and just how to do it. He wanted to win — and win we did!!

Our first victory came against King and Queen, 58 to 49. It felt great to win — and the more we won the better it felt. Both games against Surry provided a lot of excitement. We won the first game with Terry Bradshaw's winning basket scored with six seconds left on the clock. Our second meeting and the last game of the season resulted in a one point decision in our favor. That last game of the regular season put us in undisputed second place with a record of 9 wins and 3 losses.

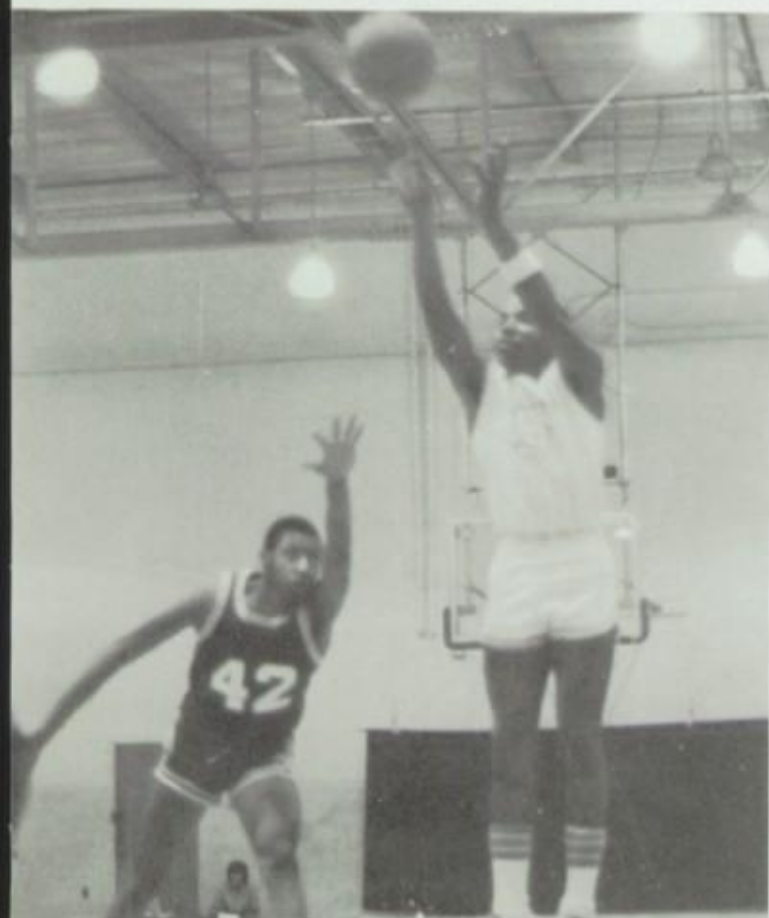

Teamwork was the key to success this season under first year coach, John Fuller. Behind the scoring of Alvin Walton and Tony Walton, the rebounding of Drexter Randall and Tony Davis, the ball-handling of Terry Bradshaw, and the excellent all-around playing of Larry Lee — we seldom missed!!!

There is always an element of surprise in any sport season, and this was no exception. There were close calls and close games but we always managed to pull through at the buzzer. Our tough, competitive spirit proved hard to beat in many cases, and our sudden elevation in the district standings made a lot of teams think twice before claiming we were easy to beat. This season, practice did make perfect — No, we weren't the District Champs, but we did make our fans proud, our coach proud, and most importantly we made ourselves proud!!!

The J.V. Basketball players learned there is more to sports than just winning. It is true the team did not achieve all the goals that they wanted to, but they did learn that there is something more important than a continual winning streak. The team worked together and even though all their games were not won, they were all hard fought. The team also gained much experience through their games, and it was a valuable lesson in sportsmanship. Even though the team was not considered a "power house", they never stopped trying to do their best. The team realized winning wasn't everything, learning was.

We Are the Champions!

Teamwork and determination describe the 1983 Duke baseball team. Under the expert coaching of Tex Murray, the team came back after losing six of its first eight games to win the District Championship. The team had to win its last three district games to get a bid to the tournament. It all depended on the last game against Surry and the Dukes came out on top 12 to 1. They won the semi-final tournament game, beating first place West Point in nine innings, 5 to 3. The championship game was against New Kent. Carl Outland had an excellent game and pitched the Dukes to a 7 to 1 victory. Coach Murray told his team that the first games would be the toughest and he was right. But he also said his team would win the championship if they made it to the tournament, and he was right about that too. Val Rapp and Danny Beale were chosen as All-District players because of their excellent play throughout the season. Carl Outland, due to his excellent pitching with 112 strikeouts, and Val Rapp, with a .358 batting average, were chosen as the Most Valuable Players. The Dukes truly did "soar with the spirit" with a championship season.

We're No Soft Competition

The 1983 girl's softball team was tops. It started off with a mediocre season and ended up second place in the tournaments. At the end of the season the teams record was 5-3, including the tournament. The captains were Mary Perkerson, Donna Harrell, and Sherry Uzzle. The most outstanding female athlete was Mary Perkerson. She made all-district for four consecutive years. This year's most valuable players were Sherry Uzzle and Donna Harrell. All the girls on the team deserve a lot of credit because they stuck together and Miss Neal deserves special thanks because she stuck with the team through the thick and thin. Miss Neal said, "This year's team had a lot of ninth graders on it, so next year most of the team should be returning and the team should do well next season if I can replace the pitcher, Donna Harrell, with someone who has as much skill as Donna had. Mary Perkerson will be hard to replace also."

Miss Neal looks on.

Laying It On The Line

With only four returnee's and only two new members in the top six, inexperience presented a problem for the boy's tennis team. However, teammates struggled to overcome this obstacle and met with success.

Meeting daily after school, the team members practiced playing singles and doubles. Their hard workouts helped them to the District Tournament. Noteworthy players include Ken Hall, Doug Hamann, Trevor Fawcett, Peter Gibbs, Kenny Cussick, and Keith Whitley. Proving the team's greatest asset, Ken Hall was chosen captain. Along with the sweat, agony, and headaches, tennis proves to be a sport of competition, challenge, but most of all, fun.

Swinging Into Action

The 1983 Girls Tennis Team had a great year. Coach Frey was a success this year with his team because all the team members enjoyed being coached by him.

The captains of this year's team were Lori Meyers and Judy Sawyer. Judy Sawyer was also this year's most valuable player.

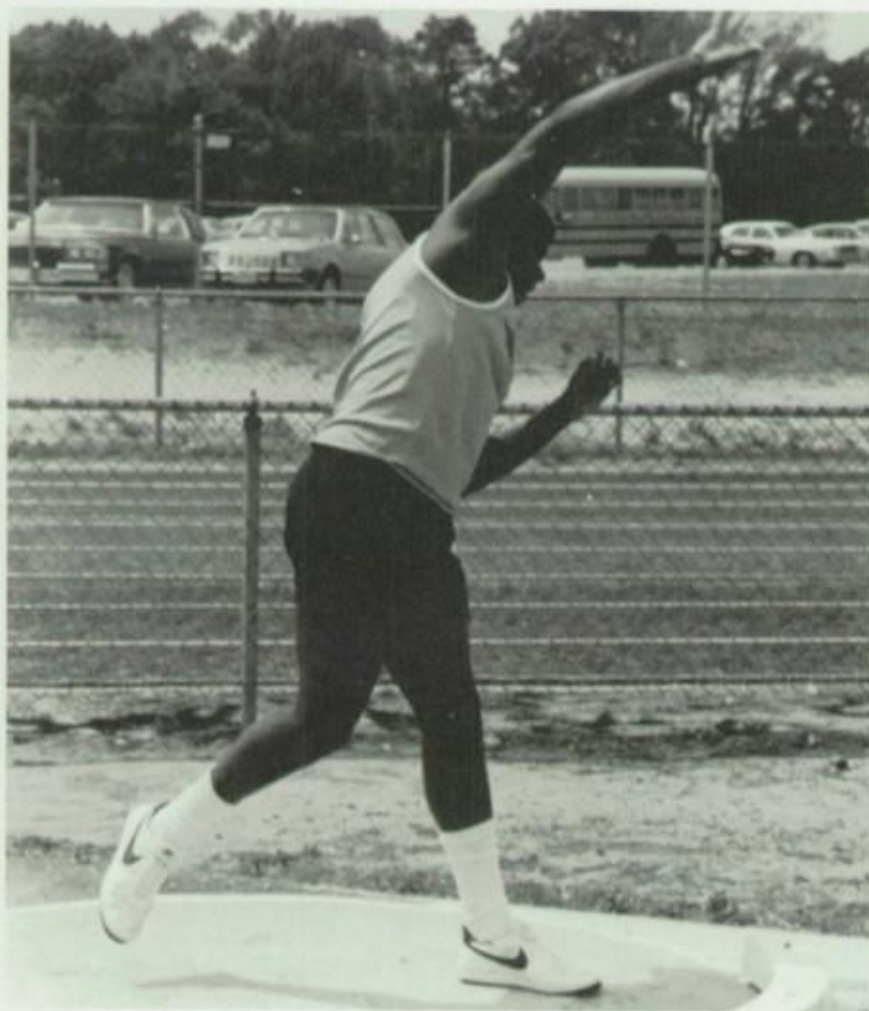

Gwen Carr and Lisa Williams were undefeated in district singles.

Varsity Cheerleading Is...

It's trying out in the spring with sponsor Ms. Mise's eyes piercing right through you.

It's learning to get along with the others and work hard, work hard, work hard!!

It's being a person to whom is said, "Hey, you're a cheerleader, aren't you?"

It's wearing the blue and gold Windsor Duke uniform.

It's working overtime by selling sweatshirts and making posters.

It's cheering with faith and loyalty for the Duke team — win or lose.

It's being sweaty, "beautiful", happy, cheerful and tired all at the same time!

It's being able to laugh and go on when you've just fallen on your face during a cheer.

It's happily riding in a "too hot" or "too cold" bus and eating sandwiches every away game of the basketball season.

It's pepping up four hundred "dead" students at a pep rally when you've just finished flunking a test.

It's doing your best to outdo last year's cheerleaders at all times, whether making posters or doing stunts.

It's always being proud that you were chosen to cheer for the Windsor High School teams!!!

J.V. Helps Keep The Spirit Soaring!

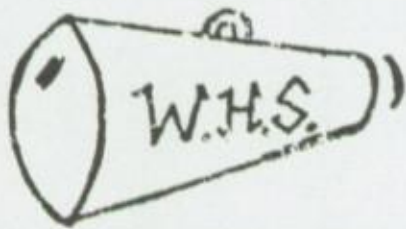

Even though the JV Cheerleaders cheered for their own respective team, the cheerleaders shared a special bond. Each girl shared the common goal of trying to create an atmosphere that would uplift the soaring spirits of the team and fans.

By the end of the season, the girls had mastered the fine art of learning to work together and get results! The results of their efforts evidenced themselves during unpredictable games as the fans contributed their vocal cords to the cheerleaders. Team spirits soared as they discovered the creative locker signs and banners mounted in various locations in school for all to see.

They encouraged the team.
They helped our spirits soar.
They kept up our morale.
They did their job well!

She's a Beauty

This year's 1983 Homecoming started off with an exciting Spirit Week when students, faculty, and staff showed their school spirit by participating in different activities such as Hat Day, when it was actually legal to wear a hat inside the building! No one could "top" James Simmons, though, with his peacock feather bonnet! On Fifties Day, imitation Fonzies, bobby socks, and saddle shoes were everywhere. Garfields and Smurfs were the most popular stuffed animals on Stuffed Animal Day. But surely the most memorable stuffed "animal" had to be that bearded man! Blue and Gold Day had almost 100% participation. Even the administrators and cafeteria staff wore their Windsor sweatshirts!

Even though Tropical Storm Dean threatened to cancel Homecoming Night itself, everything went off without a hitch as a Standing-Room-Only crowd watched Mr. Worsham crown Judy Sawyer Homecoming Queen of 1983. Everyone was glad Mr. Worsham could carry out his duty after his appearance in the parade as the Queen of the Womanless Homecoming Court, attended by Mr. Mebane, Mr. Frey, Mr. Murray, Mr. Kirts, and stand-in Mr. Parker.

Miss Judy Sawyer was crowned 1983 Homecoming Queen. She is also President of the Senior Class, Science Club, and Varsity Club.

The homecoming attendants this year were: Kit Carr, eighth grade, escorted by John Corbman; Darcus Piper, ninth grade, escorted by Tim Morgan; Shannon Claypoole, tenth grade, escorted by Timmy Ellis; Jennifer Shipp, eleventh grade, escorted by Bud Marshall; and Debbie Bowles, eleventh grade, escorted by Dean Harrell. The senior attendants were Lori Boone, escorted by Greg Reid, and Sonya Eley, escorted by Elliott Hill. 1983 Homecoming Queen Judy Sawyer was escorted by John Atwood.

P.Y.T.'S

"P.Y.T." is a hit single off Michael Jackson's album "Thriller." It is one of the many songs enjoyed by student and faculty members at Windsor High. And as these pictures show, we've got lots of "P.Y.T.'s" (Pretty Young Things) at W.H.S. These pictures also give truth to that statement "One picture is worth a thousand words!"

DON'T QUIT

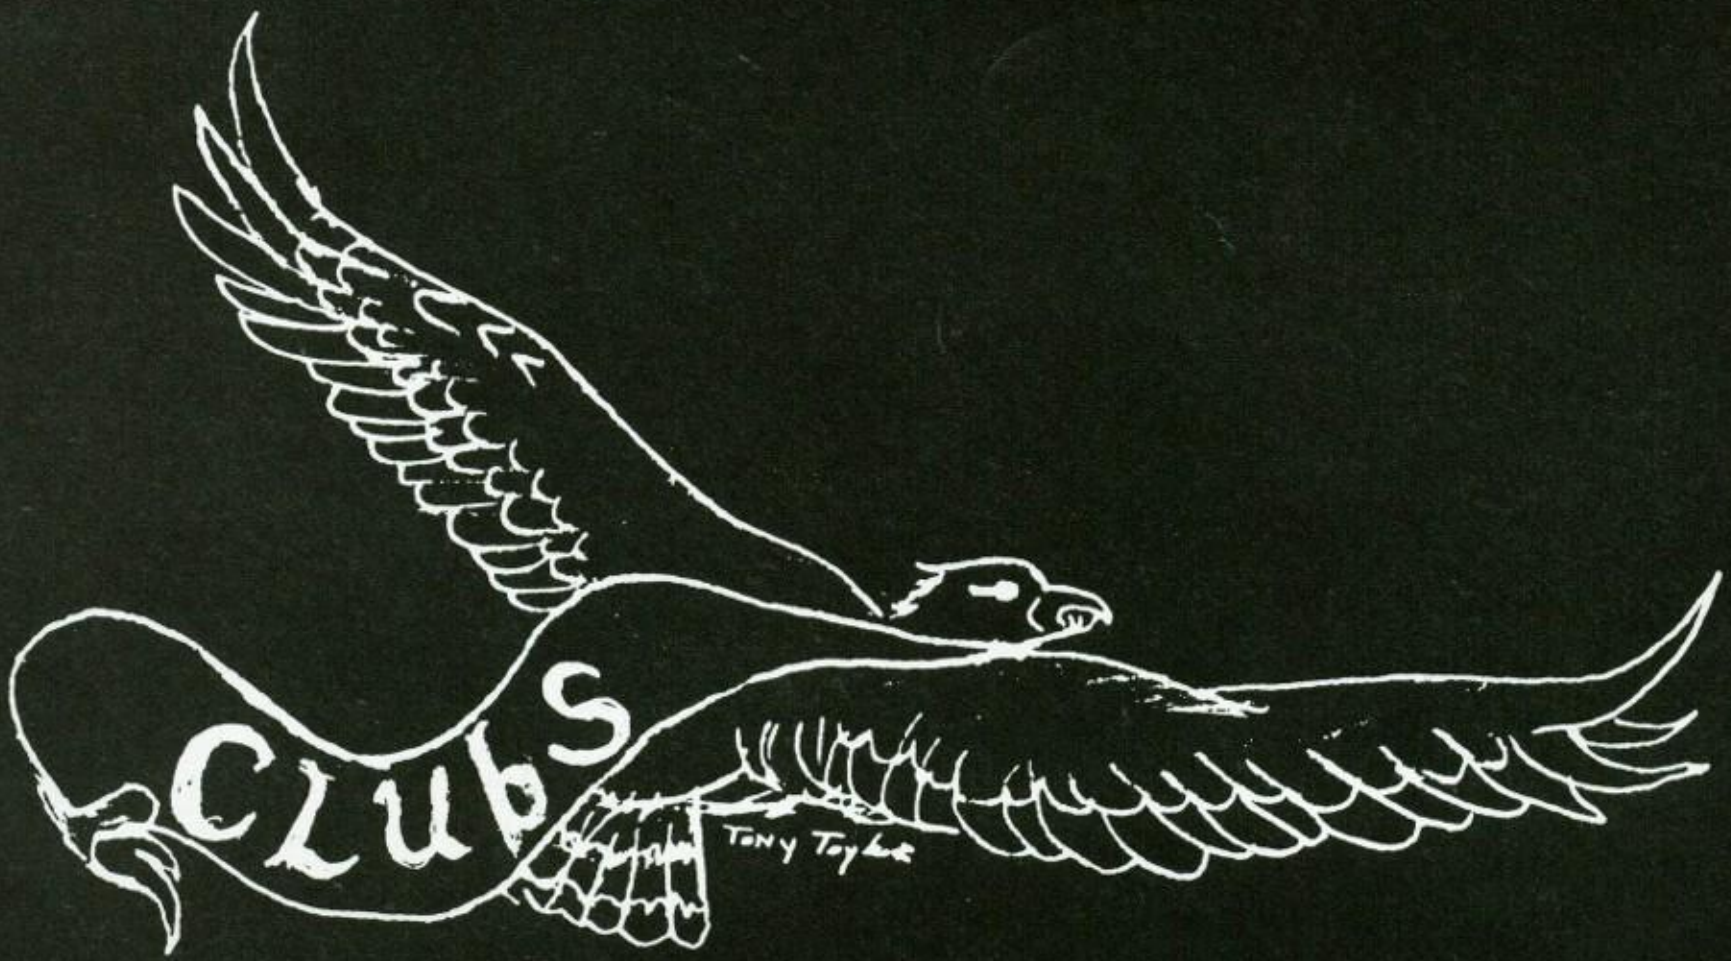

WHEN THINGS GO WRONG, as they sometimes will,
When the road you're trudging seems all up hill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must — but don't you quit.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As everyone of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out;
Don't give up, though the pace seems slow —
You might succeed with another blow.

Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man,
Often the struggler has given up
When he might have captured the victor's cup.
And he learned too late, when the night slipped down,
How close he was to the golden crown.

Success is failure turned inside out —
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt —
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit —
It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.

It's been fun — some of the time! It's been frustrating — most of the time! And it's certainly been a learning experience — all of the time! Sometimes being on the yearbook staff can be rather trying ... like when the first deadline is three days away and the ladder diagram is not done yet ... or no one remembers what type style to use ... or important layouts are missing ...

Through all of this somehow we have been able to keep our sanity, even though Ms. Withers thinks she is on the verge of a nervous breakdown. It's been a hard job, but somebody's got to do it. We hope you agree it's worth it!!!

Let The Music Play...

The Windsor High School band has participated in a number of events this year, such as Smithfield Band Day, The Christmas concert, and the District Festival. They will participate in elementary school tours and have a spring concert. These dedicated students work hard to make all the band performances their very best.

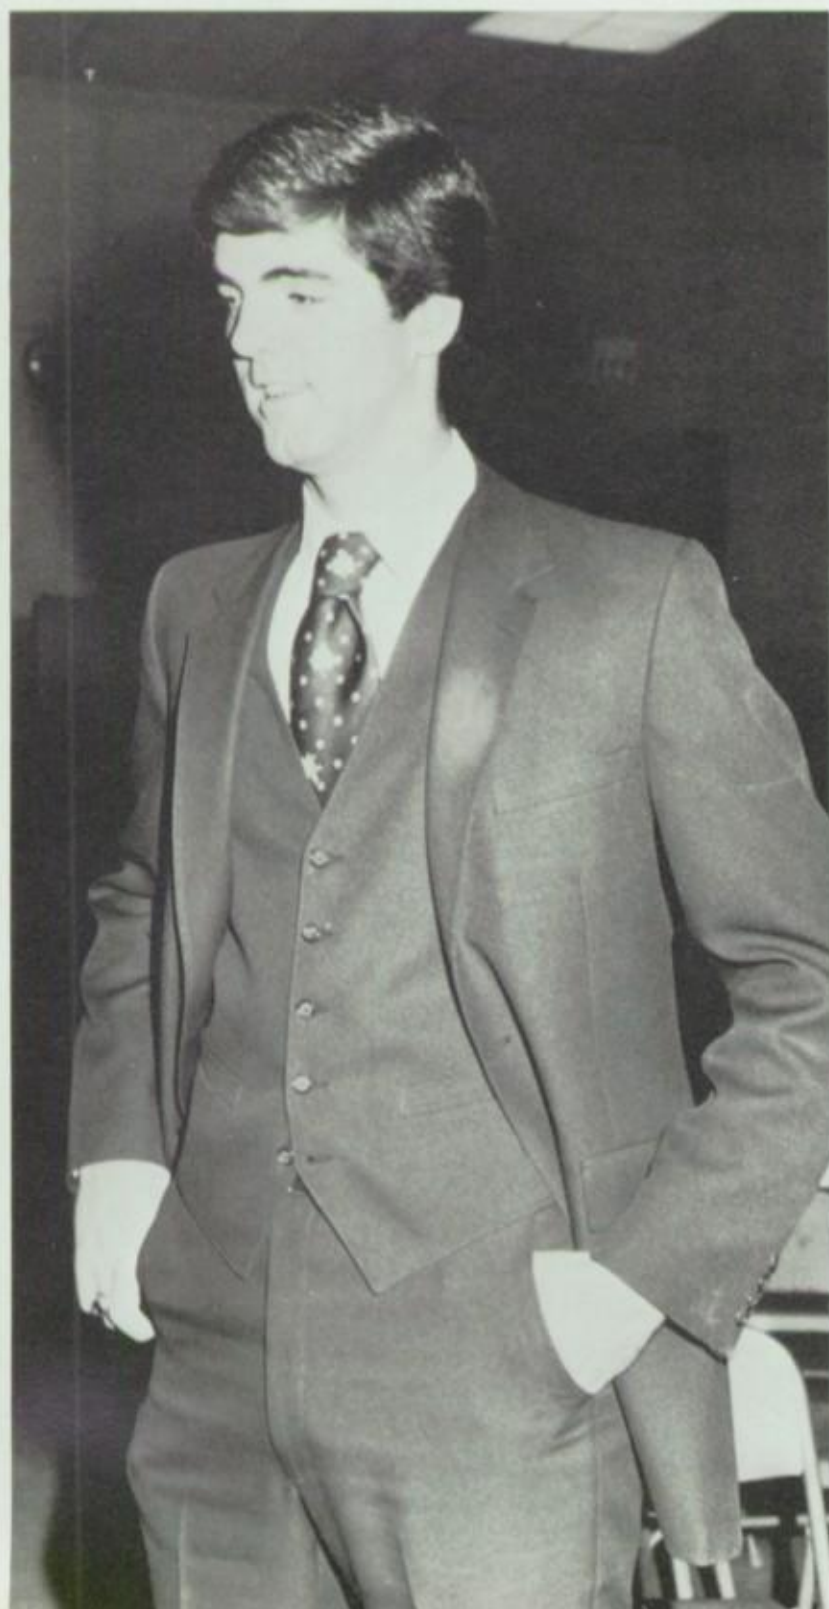

Schoolhouse Rock

Showchoir is a group of students who meet after school twice a week to perform song and dance. Students must audition and exhibit a great deal of dedication toward choral music. Tentative performances include, a trip to King's Dominion, a choral festival in April and touring the Elementary schools.

All The Right Notes?

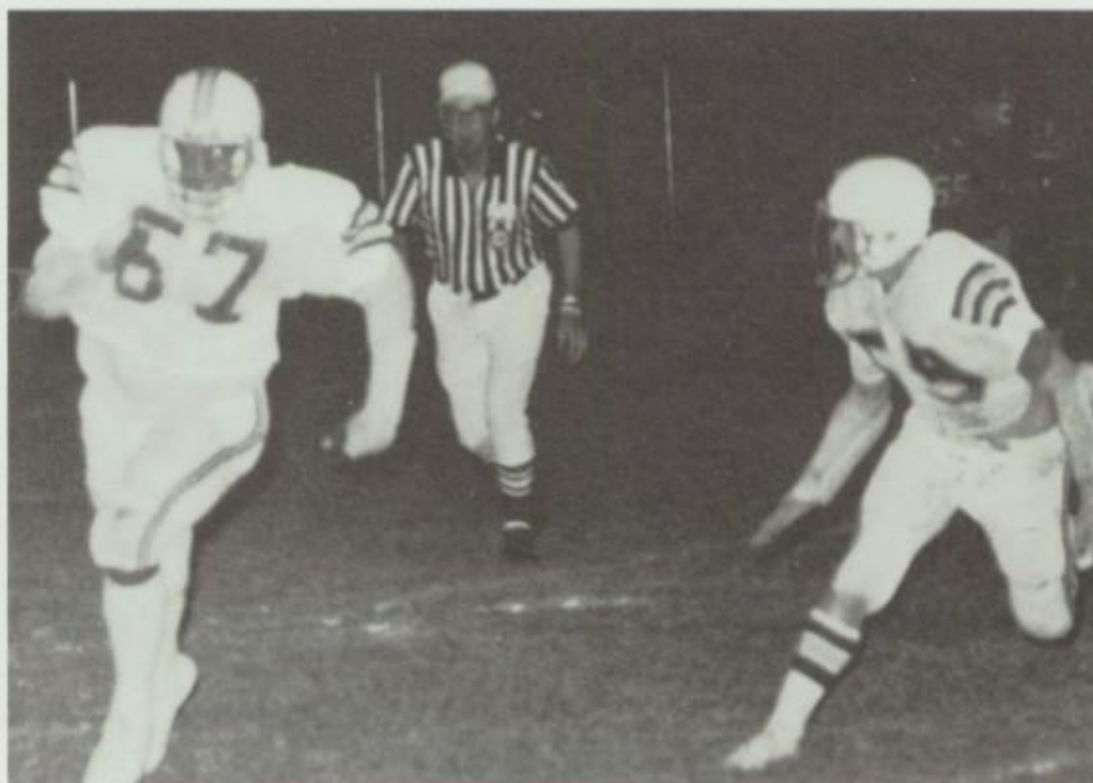

Doctor Madblood Strikes!

Under the sponsorship of Miss Kannan, The Science Club at Windsor High School has been very successful. The members of the Science Club participated in painting the bleachers at WHS on October 15, 1983. They also participated in National Education Week by making a poster. Dr. Michael Ponder of Family Practice Associates, in Franklin, spoke to the Science Club on Nov. 29. The subject discussed was Health Careers. Their future projects include planting flowers in front of the school and cleaning up the picnic area outside.

The Thrill of Victory

The Varsity Club is a student organization consisting of athletes who have earned a varsity letter. Under the sponsorship of coach Ron Cooper, the Varsity Club has been successful in all of its endeavors and has been very instrumental in encouraging school spirit. Members are from left to right: (first row) — Susan Bracey, Lori Boone, Dwayne Carr, Chris Burden, Angela Johnson, Betsy Garst, Carol Jones, and Michelle Bradshaw. (second row) — Danny Beale, Terrence Eley, Keith Whitley, David Weatherman, Phil Hardison, Debbie Parham, and James Simmons. (third row) — William Carroll, Ron Carr, Larry Regula, Chris Uzzle, Doug Hamann, Judy Sawyer, and Tony Fort.

Taking Care...

The Student Government Association at Windsor High School is one of the busiest organizations here. Officers are elected in the spring for the upcoming year. They work with the homeroom representatives and alternates to make Windsor High a better place.

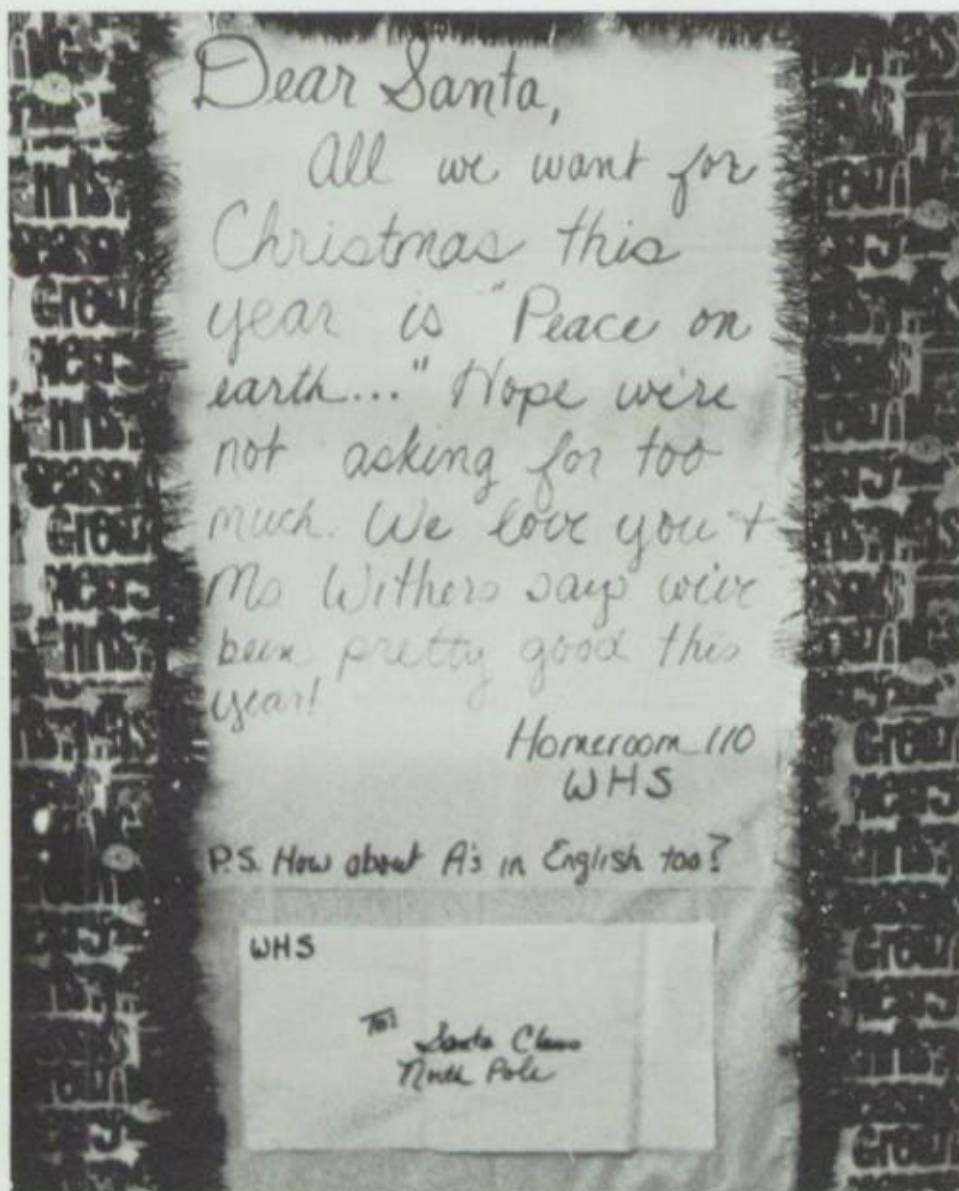

Some of the events that they participate in are sponsoring homecoming and the Christmas door decorating contest.

The SGA sponsors an annual Christmas door decorating contest. This year's winners were 1st place — Mrs. Richardson, 2nd place — Miss Withers, and 3rd place — Mr. Boggess. Almost every homeroom participated.

Forensics, Math, and Foreign Language

The "Culture Clubs"

The Forensics and Foreign Language Clubs have been "speaking in different tongues" this year. The Forensics club, sponsored by Miss Alice Stevens, participated in the Tidewater District Forensics competition held Feb. 22 at West Point High School. The categories were Poetry, Prose, Spelling, Oratory, and Extemporaneous Speaking. Kim Matthews placed third in Extemporaneous Speaking. Other Forensics members are Tina Kay, Tuwanda Ruffin, Jennifer Kay, Tim Morgan, Chris Johnson, Ricky Thompson, and Billie Cutchins.

Ms. Francis sponsors the Foreign Language Club. Members of this club are Lee Redd, Keith Whitley, Chuck Weatherman, Stephanie Eatton, and David Weatherman.

A newly-formed organization here at WHS is the Math Club sponsored by Mrs. Crump. The club is geared toward students interested in computers and their operation. Since the computer seems to be the "key to the future," this club is sure to be a success.

The Curtain Rises On Drama

Under the guidance of Mrs. Doris Pierce, the Drama Club at Windsor High School has been very successful. The Drama Club prepared a production of a one act play called "A Life Of Mondays" which was held at Surry High School. The play was a revelation of the personalities of two characters Ellen Upton, played by Chris Burden and Ed Jameson, played by Craig Griffin.

The Key To The Future

DECA, Distributive Education Clubs of America, is the student organization for students of marketing and Distributive Education.

The goals of the organization include increasing vocational understanding, realizing the importance of social intelligence and civic consciousness, and developing leadership in each student.

Members participated in the Fall Rally at the Planter's Club in Suffolk. They had dancing, tug-of-war, foot races, bag races, and football games. They had a chance to meet members from the other DECA organizations. It was a very challenging experience for everyone.

Many DECA members go into management level jobs after graduation while others go into college to study marketing, business, Distributive Education, or other related fields. Many students in D.E. 11 get out of school early to go to their jobs at various places. For instance, Glenn Strickland works at Redd's Supermarket in Windsor, Jennifer Shipp works at Smith Jeweler's in Franklin, Brad Tuck works at CalRay's Supermarket in Windsor, Ken Cussick works at Murphy's in Franklin, and Billy Scott works at Little's Supermarket in Smithfield. All these students are preparing themselves for future careers.

Handwritten blue signature or initials.

Friends Helping Friends

The Peer Facilitators take time to give other students guidance and advice throughout the year. Miss Turner selects the students who she feels are capable of handling this job and who will give good advice.

The members are Michelle Bradshaw, Kimberly Matthews, Dennis Bradshaw, Carlos Brown, Brad Tuck, Sidney Williams, Melissa Rowe, Clayton Johnson, Doug Hamann, David Weatherman, and Tina Duke.

Members of the Tidewater Challenge club should be commended for their hard work and determination.

On November 28, 1983, Channel 15 aired W.H.S. competing against Ferguson High School.

They worked hard and were determined to be winners. Even though they lost, they gave that extra effort to reach for the goal they were shooting for.

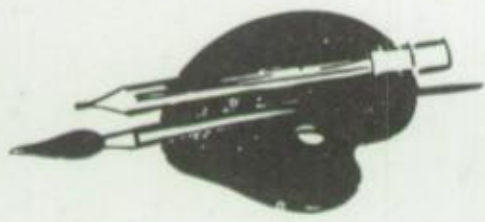

They only had a short time to prepare, but they still gave Ferguson High School a real challenge.

Even though they did not do well this year, it was really a trial run for next year when they will know what to expect.

We at W.H.S. think they have done well for their first time competing.

The Thrill of the Fight

For Everything Your Art Desires

The purpose of the Art Club is to promote the artistic abilities of its members and to sponsor art-related activities in the school. Some examples of this are the art show held each May, signs for the school, and spirit posters. The Art Club also participated in the Homecoming this year with a float in the parade. The officers of the Art Club are President Doug Hamann, Vice President Tony Davis, Secretary-Treasurer Michelle Bradshaw, and Reporter Tony Taylor.

Getting the Bare Facts

The Mighty Duke is published monthly by W.H.S. students. The newspaper is self-supporting through direct copy sales and the sale of advertising space to local merchants, and branches of the Armed Services.

The dedicated editor Kimberly Matthews and assistant editor Melissa Eates were selected by the advisor Pat Neal.

The newspaper staff feels that it's a hard job to cover all activities, sports, classes and organizations, but they do it well.

It is a big job for a small group of people and a small newspaper, but these dedicated hard workers win V.H.S.L. awards year after year thanks to the support of sponsor Pat Neal.

Cookin . . . With Style

The Future Homemakers of America is a club for students who realize that eventually they will be out on their own.

If they join the club with spirit and enthusiasm, they will successfully face the duties of an excellent homemaker.

During club meetings this year, members have discussed annual plans such as visiting the children's ward at a local hospital and a home for the elderly.

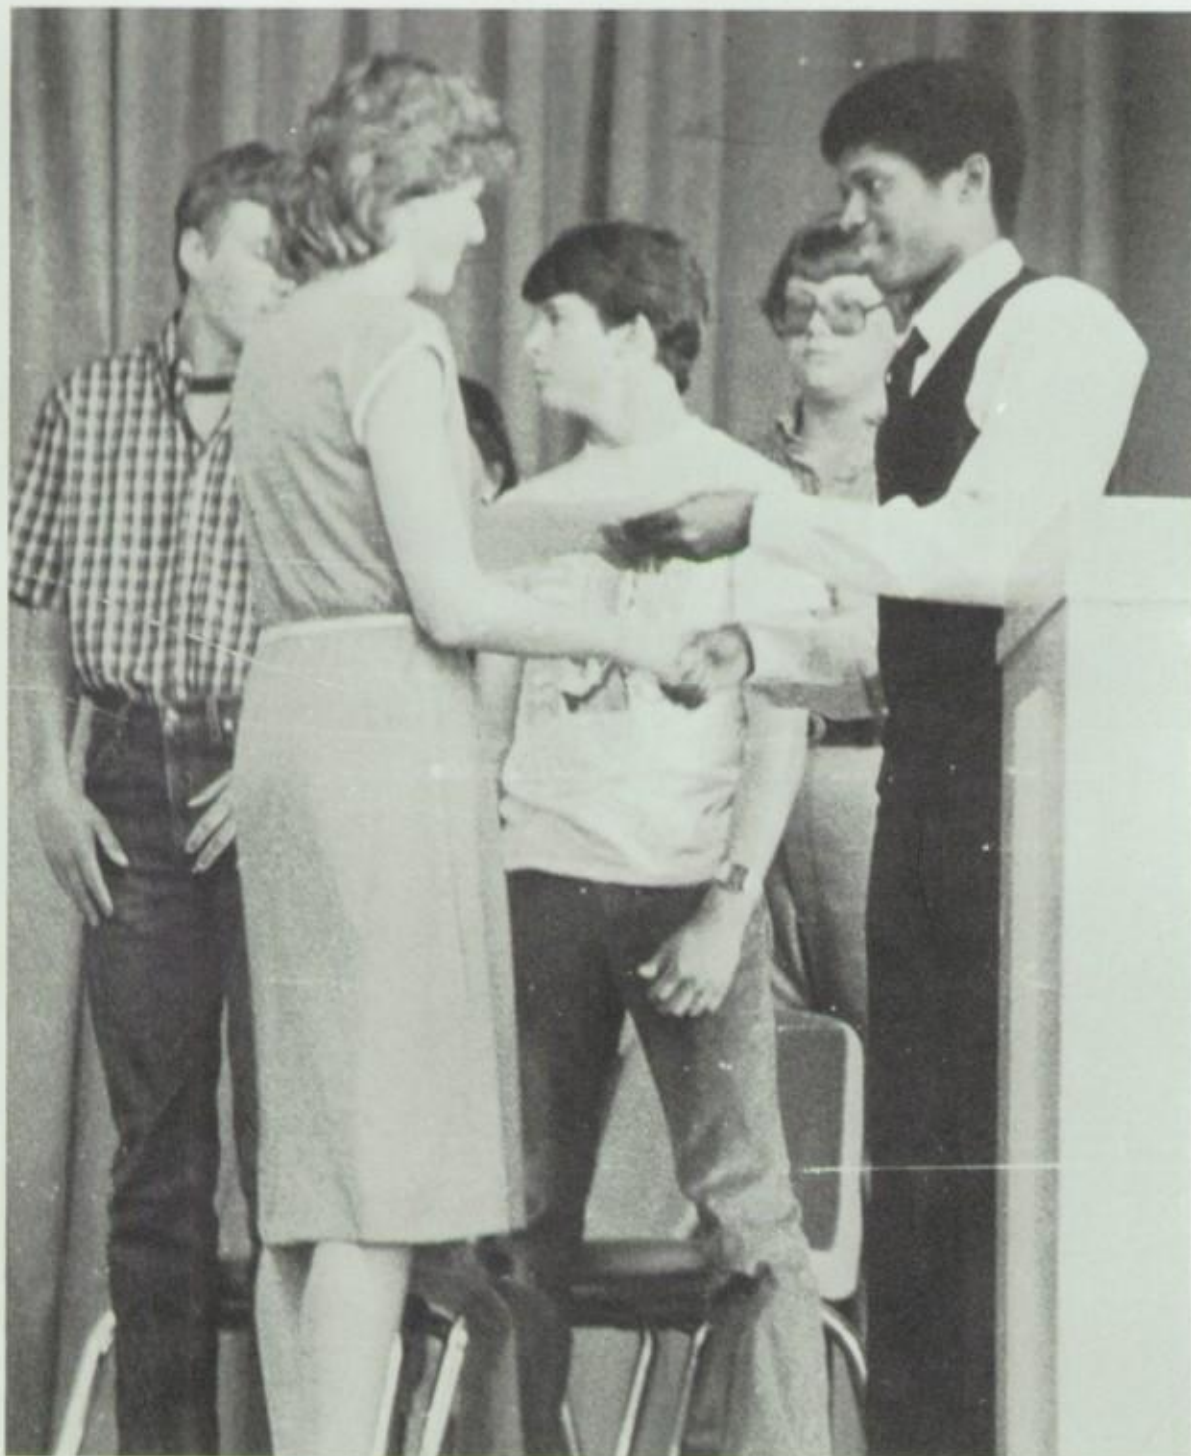

The F.H.A. held their Harvest Ball on November 18, 1983. At this time Marina Drake was crowned Miss F.H.A.

Sponsor Mrs. Gloria Eley says plans are being made to attend the F.H.A. state convention in the spring.

This year's officers are: Marina Drake, President; Wendy Uzzle, Vice President; Priscilla Faltz, Secretary; Sylesia Melton, Treasurer; Dean Reid, Reporter; and Martha Abbott, Historian.

The "A Team"

Beta Club members for 1983-84 are Steve Joyner, Alan Rose, Chris Burden, and Robert Pangle.

The Beta Club is a leadership and service organization for students with worthy character and high scholastic achievements. Members are invited into the club and formally inducted in the spring of each school year.

This year's Beta Club is small but very active. Led by sponsor Mrs. Kay Irwin, they have collected canned goods and used toys for the needy at Christmas. They also decorated a tree for everyone to enjoy in the cafeteria this year. Plans are also being made to attend the state Beta Club convention in the spring. The possibility of chartering a Junior Beta Club for eighth and ninth graders is also being investigated.

The Future Is In Our Hands...

The Future Business Leaders of America, an organization for students enrolled in business and office programs, operates as an integral part of the school program. FBLA activities provide opportunities and responsibilities in an increasing complex society. It helps to develop the qualities of business and civic leadership in today's youth who are preparing to enter the world of work. The Future Business Leaders of America are: Seated: Andrea Booker and Debbie Bowles. Standing, First Row: Karl Stokes, Sonya Eley, Billie Cutchins, Betsy Garst, Debbie Joyner, Pam Vaughan, Ashley Mobley, Kim Staples, and Michelle Townsend. 2nd Row: Keith Liggins, Donya Chase, Wendy Uzzle, Shelia Harmon, Shannon Claypoole, Judy Beale, and Erika Freeman.

Ready, Willing, and Able...

The office aides help sign passes for students and run errands. They are very helpful toward the office staff. The office aides are: Judy Sawyer, Lori Boone, Lolita Ashburn, Kim Staples, Deborah Parham, and Carol Jones. The library aides help students check out books. They help to keep books straight and organized. They also find books that students need and want. The library aides are: Rachel Turner, Marina Drake, Shannon Claypoole, Benita Thompson, Alice Robinson and Michelle Bradshaw. Sponsor is Miss Parker. The guidance aides help to find information for other students. They keep the guidance office neat and organized. They also help students find information about careers they are interested in. The guidance aides are: Susan Bracey, Angel Fleetwood and Kim Matthews.

Blood, Sweat, and Tears...

The Future Farmers of America is one of the largest organizations at Windsor High School. Sponsors John Parker and Gary Kirts do a great job helping the members learn all they can about farming and agriculture. They also have a turkey dinner every fall that always proves to be a big fundraiser for the F.F.A. Windsor's Future Farmers also always do very well when competing against other F.F.A.'s in various livestock and vegetable shows.

Officers of this year's club are Angela Johnson, President; Kevin Duck, Vice-President; Phil Hardison, Secretary; James Simmons, Treasurer; Larry Regula, Reporter; and Danny Beale, Sentinel.

Education for Employment is a club sponsored by Bob Godfrey that helps students prepare for their future careers. E.F.E. also shows students how to go about entering the field of their choice, from filling out the job application to going for the interview.

E.F.E. members also try to make Windsor High the best it can be by doing the best they can for their school. Many club activities include decorating the school at Christmas, picking up trash, and tending the flower beds and shrubbery around the school. Officers of this year's club are Barbara Jordan, President; Naomi White, Vice President; Donna Williams, Secretary; Johnell Holloway, Treasurer; Lisa Porter, Reporter; and Billy Van Horn, Sergeant-at-Arms.

"Congratulations to the Windsor Dukes and . . .
. . . the Cheerleaders who cheer them on!"

We, the staff of the 1984 Duke realize we could not have put together this book without a lot of help from our friends. We would like to take this opportunity to give them the recognition they deserve.

Many thanks to: Belinda Kitchel, our TPC representative; all the teacher and staff who have been so patient during our many interruptions; Lisa Parker and Carla Duck, who offered help and moral support (no Problem!); Tony Taylor and Boyd Hartman, who gave us theme ideas; and our parents, who have always been there when we needed them.

And most importantly we thank Jane Withers whom we drove to the very brink of insanity, and who was saved only by the publication of this book.

Brood,

There's alot of things I could write that i've never told you before but I won't mention any of them. Through the years you have changed alot many different times and each time i've tryed to adapt to each of the changes. From military school to savilian life and to a wild life. I've tryed to help you out as a friend and a brother through the years.

In the past you have helped me through alot of bad times and we've had alot of wild times also. When I needed to talk or to spend the night at 2 or 2:30 in the morning you didn't mind. You know that i'll always be your friend (brother) no matter what happens.

Theres two memories about our friendship that i'll never forget and thats the times that one of our parents died; When my step-father died I was knocked pretty hard and didn't even care if I lived anymore but you helped me to go on and when your mom died I tryed to help you to go on also. Those were very hard times in our lives and i'm glad I had you as a friend to help me out. I don't think I could of gotten through it without ~~you~~!! Remember that i'll always be here (in Suffolk) if you need to talk or go somewhere. I hope everything you plan to do in the future goes the way ~~you~~ plan it to cause out of many people I knowas, you deserve whatever you plan to do with your life. The only way it will work (your life) is if you make it work! Don't party to hard over the summer and keep in touch!!

Your Brother,

Donny #7

Brad,

Through the years we've always been good friends. You're a wonderful person Brad. I know you've been through a lot lately. But I think you still are a great friend and fun to be with.

You've changed a lot over the years but I still think you have great potential. I know that in the future you'll come out a winner. Just believe in yourself and you can do anything!

One day you're going to find someone who will share everything with you. When you do I hope you'll be happy.

Please Brad always take good care of yourself. And try to behave yourself.

I'm so glad we're friends. If you ever need me to talk to or just need someone near. I'll be here for you.

Have a nice summer! Don't forget me!

Stay Sweet!

(I know you will!)

Love always,

Caro
